DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims recite the term "chromatic ink" which is indefinite. There is no definition in the claims or specification which clearly sets forth the metes and bounds of what constitutes a chromatic ink. Examples 1-6 include various inks containing more than one pigment selected from the group consisting of red, brown, yellow, blue, green white, and black pigments. However, one of ordinary skill in the art does not know the metes and bounds of the term "chromatic", for example does an ink consisting of brown, red and yellow pigment constitute a "chromatic ink"? How many of the aforementioned pigments are required in the ink for it to be a "chromatic ink"? These questions are not readily envisaged by one of ordinary skill in the art and thus the metes and bounds of the claim are not clearly set forth.

3. The term "family" in claim 1-8 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "family" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. It is suggested that the term "family" be deleted from the claims.
